

The Parasite and Its Diet:

How YahWeh Consumes Christian Adherents to Further Its Schemes

Contrary to what seems to be the custom of magicians, I won't bore you with my background. I won't tell you that I have some unbroken lineage dating back to Merlin, or that I'm some Grandmaster Ipsissimus of the 7th Degree in some House that nobody has ever heard of. Save where important, I shall not even reference my own learning. But suffice to say, I've been a practicing magician for approximately twenty years. I've studied a lot, have done a lot, and have a wide breadth of knowledge to draw upon to write this piece.

Let us begin with a bit of magical understanding. The Higher Planes that exist are much more ephemeral than our Material world, that is so persistent in its illusion, yet they follow strict sets of rules, exactly as the Material world does. One cannot, for instance, blast a fireball from your fingertips down the street. However, one could blast a fireball down the street using a contraption involving a tank holding flammable liquid, a hose to direct it, and a means by which to ignite that liquid. Now, what makes magic even at all possible is that one can use these rules on higher planes, to affect lower planes. This is how one can evoke a deity of love to find a partner, how one can curse another with negative energies, et cetera. Once you understand the rules, the effective possibilities of what you can do are limitless.

As long as you have the juice for it.

Juice. Energy. If you're used to playing RPG's, think "mana" and you're not too far off. It is a measure of force - either potential or active - within something, to accomplish a goal. Although it has no direction and cannot technically affect change by itself (that is strictly the purview of the magician) it does have a resonance, which can affect how it operates. Performing a "love spell" when you only want to possess a mate is going to draw a possessive and overbearing mate, for instance.

So where does one get that juice? Well, it can come from you, as you are in possession of a soul, which is linked to a generative Source called your Race. This is very common for a lot of folk magic. As the Sun radiates energy, so does the Racial Soul, of which you are a part of. In the case of most of these readers, that would be the Aryan soul. One can also use spirits. Spirits get their juice in different ways. Ancestors are venerated. Gods oftentimes become more powerful as their works are made manifest in the world. Thus, a God will supply you the juice to perform magic, merely for the chance to act. This energy can come from the Earth, typically in the form of a Node of some kind. These are places of natural power in the Earth. When an Aryan describes a particular clearing, or a forest, or a river, or lake, as "Sacred," it is usually because there's a Node there.

So let's look at it from the other side. Let's say you're a magician, but have no generative source of your own. One such example can be found in the Strigoi Moroi, a Romanian word for a magician who is dead, but whose Ego has refused to dissolve and continues to exist by feeding off of the life energies of the living (they lack a generative source of their own). Were the Strigoi Moroi to cease feeding, it would cease to exist as an active agent and become inert.

Another example of this are Egregores. These are fully conscious - and very artificial - thoughtforms who only exist because one person (or multiple people) push energy towards it. There exists an SS Egregore. There exists a Jesus Egregore (as we've discussed, Jesus was an invention of Flavius Josephus the Jew). Said Jesus Egregore exists because people's belief in it prop it up. Christfaggots, when you masturbate to your favorite anime character, guess what you're creating by putting energy towards a created thought-matrix!

Another example are Spiritual Parasites. These can come in multiple varieties, from certain types of Egregores, to Strigoi Moroi mentioned above, to self-created larval entities which feed off of your obsessions and addictions, to higher order parasite beings like Yah Weh (referred to later as Aten as well).

Now that we have the above established, let us next discuss energy itself. When combined with the above mentioned thought-matrices. One can affect change in the world using this combination. Indeed, this very idea is part of the story of Odhinn slaying Ymir and shaping the world from his body: Odhinn, a God embodying Consciousness and Will, slays Chaos and shapes it into the world around Him; He gives it HIS Order. It is shaped according to HIS Will.

Next, let us establish how energy flows between individuals and things. Energy flows through cords or tendrils (remember; energy in itself has no direction, and must be directed with Will, which creates a matrix through which it can travel). These tendrils connect people to people, people to ideas, people to spiritual entities, and so on. Indeed, by analyzing the cords connecting people, and the direction of energy in which the energy flows, one can learn a lot about the relationship those people have. For instance, in a healthy sexual relationship, there are energies traveling both ways between both persons' sacral chakras. In a relationship where one desires the other more, the energy will flow AWAY from the one with the stronger desire for the other, as the person who is desired is receiving energy, or rather, POWER, from the other person. If a cord connects a person's sacral chakra to another person's solar plexus chakra (the seat of will or power) and the energy is flowing away from the sacral and towards the solar plexus of the respective people, it means the relationship is such that the person is infatuated with the other and does not have this feeling returned, but that the other gets a power trip from being so desired and worshipped.

Now, what is unique about Parasites is that they cannot create anything for their own, for they have no true generative power. They can only manipulate others into doing their bidding; stealing and twisting the creations or visages of others; or weakening and diluting what is otherwise healthy. We can recognize this behavior in Aten, the entity we call YahWeh. He declared himself an aspect of Ra (stealing and twisting visages of others), demanded to be worshipped exclusively (manipulating others for energy generation) and damn near collapsed the Egyptian Empire (weakening and diluting what is already healthy). Aten worship was eventually banned and its adherents driven from Egypt, but not before the nation had been gutted of its wealth and vitality.

I ask the Reader to observe the image below. Observe how the rays are not emanating in all directions, as a “sun” should, but appear instead as tendrils, or cords, absorbing worship; that is, energies from the worshipers. This is indicated further in the Ankhs at the beginning of the cords. More on this later.

Enter: Rabbi Schaul the Pharisee Rabbi Jew. Constantly vexed by this Yeschua cult created by Flavius Josephus the Jew (more like “twisted Titus Flavius’ life around”), Rabbi Schaul the Pharisee Rabbi Jew had a thought befitting a scheming fucking Jew of its caliber: It would twist this cult created to pacify Jews around and poison the Roman Empire with it. The poisoning is, ironically, fairly well chronicled in the Bible through Rabbi Schaul the Jew’s screeching writings to his followers, and the letters speak for themselves: Jews shared their spiritual blessings with the Goyim, so Goyim should share their material blessings with the Jew; One must be circumcised of the heart in order to receive YahWeh’s blessing; One must be “all in or all out” or else will be rejected by YahWeh. This is incontrovertible, and any who do so are willfully deluding themselves as they are too far poisoned to be of any use.

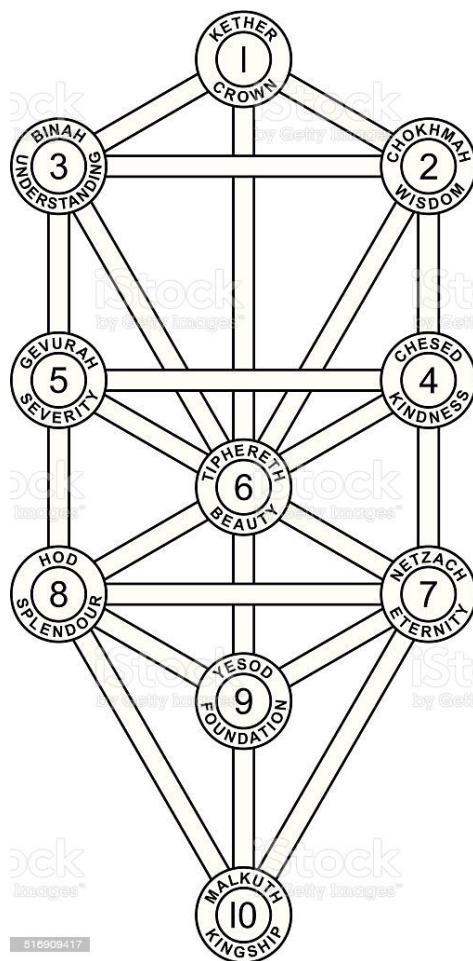

One might ask, “What made Christianity so successful at duping the Goyim for centuries, where Atenism was expelled relatively quickly?” If you asked this, you have made an astute observation. The answer is in the nature of YahWeh, and in the resonance changing properties of Christianity, via Kabbalah. Aten/YahWeh via Atenism attempted to turn the Egyptian populace into spiritual batteries via religion usurpation, and in hindsight, was relatively successful at this. It attempted to masquerade as part of the pantheon, but was ultimately able to be rejected because YahWeh has a resonance (there’s that word again) that is wholly and completely alien to the Egyptian pantheon (or any of the European ones, for that matter). In other words, it stuck out like a sore thumb and was the spiritual equivalent of Jews on Twitter with their “Fellow Whites” routine.

So what made Christianity different? Well, simply put, it set to work perverting what used to be natural in its new adherents. The descriptions are all there in the writings of Rabbi Schaul the Jew. Christian converts are wild branches grafted onto the Jew Tree in Romans 11:17; i.e. you are a Foreigner to this current, but are being removed from where you belong and grafted in. In Romans 11:1, Rabbi Schaul the Jew openly states he is descended of Abraham, of the Tribe of Benjamin. He details how his plan is to make the Jew - who is also an alien parasite to this world - palatable and acceptable to the world in Romans 11:15. By changing what the adherent would otherwise perceive as evil, alien, and wrong into that which is “Holy” (if there was ever a word that threw up red flags, that should be it), the YahWeh entity need not worry about being discovered - indeed, the adherent with poor instincts might even come to recognize YahWeh as natural and his original deities as alien!!

So the next question to that is “How?” The answer to that is with Kabbalah. Kabbalah was derived from what was originally a Planetary system of magic based in Babylon which recognized that the planetary bodies were material manifestations of different planes and aspects of the Soul. This same system of magic was practiced by Egyptians and Greeks as well. Remember, the Parasite creates nothing, it only twists and perverts what is already healthy. The manner of perversion involved the splitting of the planetary sphere into a “light” aspect and a “dark” aspect. In reality, they are not “light and dark” but are best thought of as frequencies that are varying degrees of complementary or dissonant with each other. More concerned with their relationship within the whole than with one aspect. This division into “Light” and “Dark” allows for a division which mimics the resonance of YahWeh; thus allowing it to work in an environment in which it can effectively hide. For you faggots immediately trying to find a way to justify your Jew worship by saying you worship “the Light” or whatever, that is patently absurd. You must accept the entire thing, not just the parts you like. The self righteousness, the child sacrifice and rape, the self flagellation, all of this and more, are as much a part of aligning yourself with the YahWeh Parasite as is your Jew Savior worship. To put it in Kabbalistic and Qliphothic terms, Metatron and Moloch are the same entity, viewed in different ways.

This Kabbalistic doctrine in Christianity can be seen in the relationship between YahWeh the Parasite God as Kether, Yeschua as Tiphareth, the Holy Spirit as Yesod, and the Church as Malkuth. See the picture below:

I don't want to spend much time on these since they are not entirely relevant, but the spheres in the center are states of being, where the spheres to the right or left define how that state of being experiences itself and its environment. Thus, the "map," such as it is called, begins with Kether, and emanates through Chokma, Binah, Chesed and Geburah, to Tiphareth, where it encounters another state of being. The relationship between Kether and Tiphareth is defined as that of Father and Son. Incidentally, Tiphareth is also called the Savior. It further emanates through Netzach and Hod, into Yesod, where it again experiences another state of being. This is the sphere which connects Malkuth, the Material world, with the higher states above it, and is thus linked to the so-called "Holy Spirit" which possesses the Church (more on that below). This is the "mystery" behind your so-called "Trinity God." It's a Kabbalistic ruse designed to possess you. Congratulations. If you need any further convincing, merely look at how Malkuth is the Bride of Tiphareth, and the Church is the Bride of Christ. Thus, by aligning yourself with the Church, the Holy Spirit, Rabbi Yeschua and then finally with YahWeh, you are literally altering your resonance to be virtually indistinguishable from YahWeh's.

So now, the reason you all read this garbage. The Why. As mentioned previously, a Parasite has no generative force of its own and will maliciously feed off of others to amass energy and power. A magician will use energy and power to shape the world around him, in accordance with his will. By worshipping Yeschua and therefore the YahWeh parasite - no matter whether you call it the god of everything, totally and definitely 100% Aryan, or even a Nigerian lesbian - you feed said parasite entity. You, the millions of adherents to Christianity, and the millions of adherents to Islam, feed YahWeh on the daily with your Racial Soul's power, so it can further influence and manipulate this world. It doesn't matter if you object to it. It doesn't matter if you don't believe a word of what I'm saying. That is what is happening. As demonstrated above, you have aligned yourself with YahWeh, and It is using YOUR power to destroy us, just as surely as the Jew manipulates currencies to cause our poverty and their wealth, even if though you "only participate in the Kike system, and don't agree with it."

One last thought before I go - given that you have chosen to ally yourself with YahWeh against your own race - wittingly or not - I will take you at your word that you are, in fact, "The Real Jews." When the day comes, you'll receive the same treatment.

Hail Victory,
